EMU BAY

JULY 2020

HELLO TO ALL OUR SEASIDE EMU BAY FRIENDS

It's wonderful that we're all able to plan getaways again. I think we all deserve it after a tough few months and not only surviving the pandemic but also helping to beat it, in South Australia at least. We sincerely hope that you and those you love have come through unscathed.

We've often thought that 'getaway' doesn't always mean the same thing to everyone. For some it's lazing on the beach, not having to cook or shop, or taking in the sights. For others it's getting the boat in the water, fishing every day, lazy sleep-ins or binge watching that unmissable tv series you somehow missed.

And chances are that it's something different for everyone in the family.

In our experience, and that of the many who regularly get away to KI, Emu Bay is the perfect place to satisfy everyone, as a destination in its own right and as the perfect springboard for enjoying all that the Island has to offer.

If dad insists on fishing (and with King George Whiting like our recent catch who would blame him!), then there's more room for the rest of the family on the beach or on one of myriad tours and attractions that are great for all ages: swimming with dolphins,

IT'S WHERE YOU

quad bikes, Little Sahara, wildlife and raptor parks, historic lighthouses, Seal Bay and everything from unique Ligurian honey producers to eucalyptus and lavender farms. (A tip for when the fish aren't biting... the Island boasts not only some fine wineries but also some great microbrewers and distillers.)

But don't think fishing is just something for dads: one of the best family experiences you can have is with Sean and Vicky of Emu Bay Fishing Charters. Even if you don't want to try your hand at landing snook, whiting, trevalley and even tuna, there's no better way to enjoy the pristine waters and spectacular northern coast of Kangaroo Island than a trip offshore in a 10-metre boat. Charters are for 4-12 people and resume in September (see <https://www.emubayfishingcharters.com.au> for full details). A stint of fishing with the children on the jetty can also bring a haul of sweet mullet. (Let us know if you want to know about the 'secret' and almost foolproof bait to use.)

You will, of course, want to cook your own fresh fish, but Emu Bay is only 15 minutes from the great range of bakeries, pizzerias, restaurants, cafes and pub at Kingscote, all of which can help get you out of the kitchen and into island pleasures. We'd especially welcome you at Amadio Wines' KI Cellar Door & Restaurant.

Seaside Emu Bay remains the Island's premier holiday, investment and residential development and we'd love you to come see us and take some time to find out all that KI has to offer.

The Island would be glad to have you too, with tourism being an essential part of its recovery from the bushfires and C-19 shutdown. (You might be interested to see how that recovery is being managed at <https://dhs.sa.gov.au/services/disaster-recovery/kangaroo-island>.)

Please let us know if you're coming for an Island holiday in the coming months and we'll dust off the red carpet!

With warmest regards

Caj & Genny
